How do I create an account?

Just fill in the fields describing your business profile and select a password to get free access to the most relevant government financing programs.

What kind of businesses can use this search tool?

It can be used by any for-profit business that's incorporated in Canada (or planning to do so), from startups to large corporations, in all sectors of activity.

How does the search tool filter funding programs?

The company profile you created is the primary filter, ensuring only relevant funding programs are displayed based on criteria such as location, sector of activity and income.

You can personalize your results based on your situation by ticking the appropriate boxes under Shareholder and Operational Profile, Product Development, Strategic Transaction and Hiring and Training. This will ensure you only get programs that are in line with your specific business operations and needs.

How does Fundica make sure its system is always up to date?

The platform is kept up to date by web discovery and tracking bots, funders, and a funding research team.
